

December 10: Hemispheric Day of Action Against Foreign Military Bases

We, Latin American social movements, united through the campaign "Latin America A Region of Peace -- No Bases", call for a day of protest on December 10 to oppose the foreign military bases in our hemisphere.

We will organize street activities, debates, workshops, exhibitions, cultural activities and seminars to denounce the growing U.S. military intervention in Latin America. We will offer our solidarity to the people across the hemisphere who struggle to defend their sovereignty and oppose the criminalization of social resistance.

We take a strong and peaceful stand and will not bow to imperialism and its aggressive foreign policy. From the streets we are going to make Latin America a region free of foreign military bases.

Take part.
